LAND

UHF CB Fixed Mount Radios

GME is the only Australian manufacturer of UHF CB Radios. Manufacturing in Australia for over 60 years, GME is the industry leader in UHF CB communication technology.

Since the introduction of the TX4000 series of mobile radios, which revolutionised the Australian UHF CB radio market, GME has continued to focus on research and innovation to ensure the company remains at the forefront of radio communications development.

GME's UHF CB fixed mount radios are specifically designed to suit the harsh conditions of the Australian landscape. With an extensive range, GME has a radio to suit every application.

A New Era In UHF CB Radio

XRS™ Connect is an Australian Made radio platform designed to be smart, adaptable, and rugged.

XRS™ radios feature professional-grade microphones, powerful 2-watt speakers for outstanding audio performance, programmable buttons, and high-contrast, anti-glare screens.

Enabled by Bluetooth® wireless technology, XRS™ Connect is the clear market leader of connected UHF CB radios, with a number of unique features.

The XRS™ Connect range are the first ever UHF CB radios with app control, introducing new features such as creating and sharing scan lists, and instant access to the entire Australian and New Zealand commercial analogue frequency database.

As with many other smart devices, XRS™ Connect products are software upgradeable via the app, keeping your radio up to date with the latest features and technology.

XRS™ CONNECT ACTIVE MUTE

XRS™ Connect Active Mute allows users to manually mute the radio when receiving a phone call to their mobile phone. The XRS™ Connect App is able to detect incoming phone calls and automatically mute the XRS™ Connect radio for the duration of the call, ensuring uninterrupted phone conversations.

XRS™ Connect Active Mute uses smart phone and Bluetooth technology to either mute or lower the XRS™ Connect radio volume automatically when the user makes or receives a phone call. This allows the user to focus on their conversation rather than manually adjusting the volume on the XRS™ Connect radio.

XRS™ CONNECT SMARTPHONE APP

The XRS™ Connect App for Android and iOS offers a number of additional features, exclusive to the XRS™ Connect range of radios.

The XRS™ Connect App allows users to easily manage settings, download firmware updates, create custom scan lists, and track the GPS location of other XRS™ users through the use of XRS™ Location Services technology.

Users are also able to send, receive and display a short text 'status' on the tail of transmissions, selecting from either pre-defined or user-defined statuses.

The XRS™ Connect App also features offline map caching, giving users the option to download and store detailed topographic maps - ensuring accurate map display in areas with no cellular coverage.

XRS™ CONNECT VOICE PLAYBACK

XRS™ Connect Voice Playback, enables users to record all voice transmissions received from other radios. Ideal for noisy cabins or for users who are in and out of their vehicles, this feature makes missing transmissions an issue of the past.

XRS™ Connect Voice Playback records and stores the first 30 seconds of each received transmission, with a total recording time of 12 minutes. This exciting feature is available in every XRS™ Connect model through the XRS™ Connect App.

Antennas

GME has a specialised design team with the ability to develop application and band specific antenna products. Our antennas have a fit for purpose construction to suit customer requirements ranging from Heavy Duty Off-road to discrete On-glass and Multiple Band PCB Design.

GME's antenna range includes the AE4700 series, an adaptable antenna system with the coaxial termination embedded within the spring assembly with easy screw down fit of the whip. This allows for interchangeability of whips depending on the operating conditions and application, shorter lengths and lower gain for hilly terrain and longer lengths with higher gain for travelling on open roads with flat terrain.

Antenna Gain and dBi

When buying an antenna, it is important to consider what gain is right for you. Consider the local terrain and what activities you will be doing.

High gain antennas (8.1dBi) take the signal and transmit it along a straight plane in a tight, narrow beam. This is ideal where the terrain is quite flat with few obstacles in the signal path.

A medium gain antenna (6.6dBi) has a more rounded, wider beam than a high gain antenna. This means the signal is less likely to be blocked by obstacles, making a medium gain antenna the best choice for those in suburban areas and larger rural towns

Unity gain (2.1dBi) simply means that the antenna radiates in all directions equally, like a round ball. The broad signal gets around and over buildings, hills, valleys and trees. Therefore, a low gain antenna is the best choice for bushy and hilly country.

An aerial photograph of a speedboat moving across clear, turquoise water. The boat is positioned in the lower-left quadrant, leaving a long, white, frothy wake that extends towards the upper-right. The water's color transitions from a deep blue in the foreground to a vibrant turquoise near the rocky coastline in the upper-right. The rocks are light-colored and jagged, with some green vegetation visible. A red banner with the word "MARINE" in white capital letters is located in the top right corner.

Automatic Identification System (A.I.S.)

The GME Marine Automatic Identification System (AIS) is a location and vessel information reporting system. It allows vessels equipped with AIS to automatically and dynamically share and regularly update their position, speed, course and other information such as vessel identity with similarly equipped vessels. Position is derived from the Global Positioning System (GPS) and communication between vessels is by Very High Frequency (VHF) digital transmissions.

There are a number of types of AIS device as follows:

- Class A Transceivers
- Class B Transceivers
- AIS Base Stations
- Aids to Navigation (A to N) Transceivers
- AIS Receivers

Marine Antennas

Introducing the new GME Marine Antenna System, a product line that provides a simple yet highly versatile solution to the myriad of antenna installation problems encountered on vessels.

At the heart of the system are the ABL series of interchangeable swivel bases, the ABL012 and ABL013. Suitable for the VHF, Broadcast and AIS antenna whips. Utilising GME's integrated SO/PL259 connection technique, the coaxial cable remains attached to the base rather than the antenna whips, permitting installation or security removal of the whip in a matter of seconds. A splash proof silicon cap is provided for connector protection when the whip is removed.

The size and flexibility of the swivel bases, coupled with the solderless FME connectors enable fast, trouble free installation in even the most challenging situations.
